As one of the largest electric and natural gas utilities and commercial renewables developers in the United States, Duke Energy embraces its responsibility to power the communities where our customers and employees live and work, as well as to address the challenges associated with climate change.

Environment
- Since 2005, decreased carbon dioxide emissions from electricity generation by over 40 percent, sulfur dioxide emissions by over 95 percent and nitrogen oxides emissions by over 80 percent.
- Announced a new goal to achieve net-zero methane emissions from our natural gas distribution business by 2030.
- As of year-end 2020, owned, operated or had under contract almost 8,800 MW of wind, solar and biomass.
- Built momentum around electric vehicle charging pilot programs and announced a plan to electrify Duke Energy’s vehicle fleet.
- Since 2010, retired 51 units at coal-fired power plants, totaling approximately 6,500 MW of capacity.

Social
- Provided electric rates below the national average in all customer classes and all service areas for the seventh consecutive year.
- Duke Energy and its Foundation provided more than $8 million to COVID-19 relief efforts, and more than $2 million was provided by the Duke Energy Foundation to social justice and racial equity organizations.
- Quickly put protocols in place to protect our employees and customers and moved approximately 18,000 employees to remote work.
- Remained one of the electric utility industry’s top leaders in safety performance with a total incident case rate of 0.33.
- Conducted more than 500 Pathways to Inclusion sessions for employees to share ways to make our workplace more inclusive.
- Received a perfect score for the fourth year in a row on the Human Rights Campaign Foundation’s 2021 Corporate Equality Index, earning inclusion on the organization’s list of Best Places to Work for LGBTQ Equality.
